The Bank Satement.

REVIEW OF THE OPERATIONS OF THE WEEK.

New York, Jan. 7 .- Prices of stocks were inclined to yield again today, but the pressure was not urgent and any evidence of support in the market tended to check the selling. Such support developed for Erie and Reading dring the course of the first hour and a practically complete recovery of the opening declines was made. There was a good demand for Illinois Central which was accounted for by unsubstantiated rumors of an intended increase in the dividend rate. At the recovered level of prices the demand became so languid as to cause fresh discouragement over the failure to appear for the January reinvestment demand, and prices sagged away again at the last, making the closing weak and dull. evidence of support in the market tend-the closing weak and dull. Disappointment was professed over the bank statement, but the showing was not calculated to produce more than a nominal influence with the extreme ease ruling in the money mar-ket. The fact is not doubted that cur-rency has started to move in a strong tide to this center and the failure of the bank statement to reflect it is at-tributed to cross currents in the move-men which confuse the computation by the average system. The Metropol-itan traction stocks were weak from special causes, notably the threatened competition for their suburban traffic, and their sharp declines had a sym-pathetic effect on the rest of the mar-ket. There were persistent rumors, such as have circulated for some days. that the report of United States Steel earnings for the final quarter of the year would prove less satisfactory than preliminary estimates had promised. There was much discussion of the conference of political leaders which was announced to assemble at Washington during the afternoon to consider the programme for congressional action, including legislation concerning corporations and tariff revision. The weekly mercantile reviews offered no grounds for selling stocks, and the enormalus figure of the December anthracite output was a fostering influence upon the firmness of the coalers. The favorable industrial news failed, however, to stimulate any demand for stocks, and the market for bonds was also quieter than during the early part year would prove less satisfactory than also quieter than during the early part of the week. Total sales of bonds, par value, $1,800,000.

tended by the abortive Northern Securities merger, and more, too.

The non-appearance in these plans has involved a state of surprise upon the speculative element who held stocks in expectation of a demand to be stimulated by announcements which have not come. The belief continues general in the financial world that great projects are working out in the railroad world and it is commonly expected that the great ing out in the railroad world and it is commonly expected that the great accumulation of money resources in New York this spring which seems inevitable will be taken advantage of to secure the additional capital required for these projects. Rumors of their form are vague and various, but stress is laid on the supposed extension of the Rockefeller interest, in New York Central and on the admitted New York Central and on the admitted intention to add Cassatt of the Penn-sylvania to the New Haven directorate as going to show the direction of polof the combination.

The money market has been abundantly supplied and passed through the annual settlement period with very the annual settlement period with very slight symptoms of pressure, which was relaxed almost immediately, contrary to the usual experience, which shows a continuation of plessure for several days after the turn of the year. This condition of the money market deprives the persistent outflow of sold of any substantial effect on affairs, although there is sentimental effect on the stock market on affairs, although there is sentimental effect on the stock market.

The market for bonds has been broad and a good investment demand has been evident. United States 4s, registered, declined ½ per cent, and the coupons advanced ¼ per cent on call during the week.

added to the net loss of cash, made a decrease of $2,075,175 in surplus reserve to $11,608,250, or about three millions less than the surplus at the corresponding date of 1904. Computed upon the basis of deposits, less those of $22,781,206 public funds, the surplus last week was $17,305,000. Loans were increased $3,041,500, reflecting probably ordinary loaning operations. One interesting feature of the statement is that with the exception of 1902 this is the first time in fifteen years when there has been a decrease in surplus reserve; even in that year the reduction in this item was less than $500,000.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Continued light movement of wheat in the United States today and prospect of decreased shipments from foreign countries imparted a strong tone to prices. At the close May wheat was up ½. Corn was up ½. Oats are practically unchanged. Provisions are off up 35. Corn was up 16024. Oats are practically unchanged. Provisions are off 242610c.

A steady tendency was evident in wheat at the opening. There was a slight improvement in quotations. May being unchanged to 35 higher at 1.1521.1536. One of the factors was the firm tone of the Liverpool grain market. Another factor later more emphasized was the continued light movement of wheat in the United States. Northwestern receipts bore out expectations of a considerable reduction, arrivals today at Minneapolis and Duluth being 319 cars, compared with 538 cars the corresponding day a year ago.

Some local longs, anxious to even up trades over Sunday, sold moderately shortly after the opening, causing a slight recession in prices. May eased off to 1.13361.1336. Subsequently the market in a gradual way developed a fair degree of strength and prices made good advances. The cash wheat situation was again bullish at St. Louis and Minneapolis, From St. Louis came many details of increasing difficulty millers in Kansas are experiencing in regard to the wheat for milling purposes. Total primary receipts today were only 492,600 bushels, as compared with $45,500 bushels last year. A prediction by a well known British erop statistical that shipments from Russia would show a decided decrease in the near fyture added to the strength of the market here. Trading was more active during fairly liberal purchasers. The market closed at the highest point of the day, with May at 1.1554.

The market for corn today showed more strength than had been manifested for some time. Bull influences were firm on cables and small acceptances from the country. May closed at 4445.

some time. Bull influences were firm on cables and small acceptances from the country. May closed at 44%.
Oats were quiet. May closed at 30% 631.
Notwithstanding a fair demand for lard from leading packers, the provision market was weak the greater part of the day. At the close May pork was off 10c, lard was down 5c and rios were 2%c lower.

The Financier says: The most notable feature of the official statement of the New York associated banks last week was its failure to reflect in the cash item the traceable movements of money during the week, an increase in legal tenders partly offsetting a loss in specie, while the estimates indicated a gain of more than seven and 2 haif millions cash. It is difficult to account for this discrepancy upon the theory that it was caused by the week's exports of gold, for these shipments were included in the estimates, and, moreover, the traceable gain was chiefly from the traceable gain was chiefly from the statement was $75,300—specie decreasing $4,570,800, while legal tenders increased $3,675,500. Deposits were augmented $5,113,500, which was $2,873,300 in excess of the sum of the increase in loans less the loss of cash. Therefore, the statement showed an unusually bad proof. The required reserve was increased $1,729,875 through the augmented deposits, which requirement showed an unusually bad proof. The requirement was conditioned in the first of the sum of the increased $1,729,875 through the sum of the sum of the increased $1,729,875 through the sum of the increased $1,729,875 through the sum of the sum of the increased $1,729,875 through the sum of the sum of the increased $1,729,875 through the sum of the sum of the increased $1,729,875 through the sum of the
